THE CEREMONY

Couples looking to tie the knot in Switzerland have the option of a registry office or church wedding.

For those coming from overseas, the legal paperwork must be sorted before arrival, through the Swiss Embassy in your home country. Once that's all set, you can pick a date and start planning your perfect day in the stunning Swiss Alps!

NEED TO KNOW

All the details about the legalities and procedures for getting married overseas can be found on the Swiss Embassy website in your country. Just a heads up; the process can take three to four months, so it's best to start early.

the feast

The food at The Lodge is one of the standout features of your stay, offering a delicious blend of Swiss and international cuisine. Your first meal as a married couple can be as formal or relaxed as you'd like; we're here to make it unforgettable. If the weather's on your side, why not enjoy dining al fresco on the terrace, soaking up the fresh mountain air?

All menus are fully customisable, and we're happy to inspire you or take inspiration from your ideas. Plus, we offer an impressive selection of international wines, top-tier spirits, international beers, and exceptional house champagne to toast to your special day.

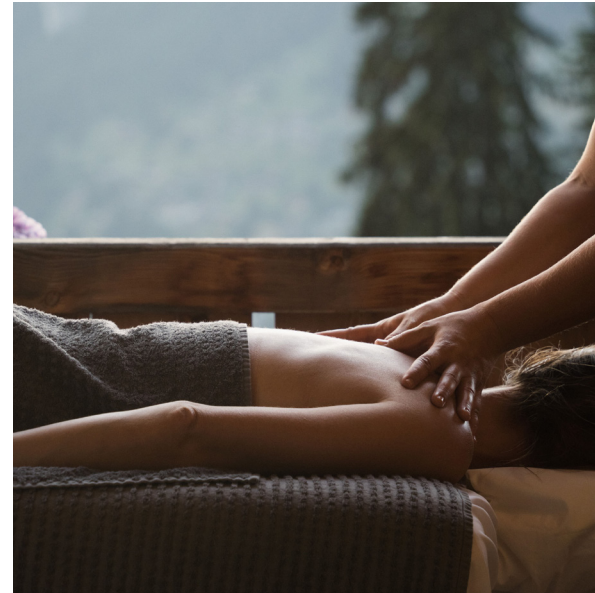

the details

Our team will be on hand to make sure everything goes smoothly when it comes to your big day.

We highly recommend having your own event planner to help with those all important details. We work closely with a handful of planners who we trust and have years of experience.

From flowers and decorations, to music and entertainment, photographers, videographers, and setting up the venue exactly as you'd like it - the experts can take care of it all. Not forgetting those all important travel arrangements for your guests.
